Message From President and Hon. Secretary Desk

Greetings,

Dear friends,

The heat wave is on!!! Figuratively and factually speaking every person is literally feeling the heat whether it is soaring temperatures of arguably one of the hottest summer in the past decade, the competitive arena of the cricket field in this year's IPL, the heat of controversies surrounding the political situation, the always burning political cauldron, the omnipresent financial scams and skulduggery, the ever rising prices of commodities and resultant impact on domestic market, the person in the street has borne, a lot of brunt and has always been rendered helpless and forsaken in most of these situation in life.

Water scarcity is impending and before serious shortage of water storage occurs let us hope the rain quenches our thirst. We pray "Indra" to shower rain in form of blessings to all our "Bharat Mata".

Vacation is finishing fast in schools & colleges and students are free to spend Luxurious time of leisures & pleasures various activities have been lined up for kids to occupy & engage them to best of their activity and creativity.

For kids summer camp was arranged from 13th May to 18th May. Various activities like Dancing, Drawing, Craft, Zumba exercise done by trainer Rushi shah & Mayuri Panchal to kids and their mothers. Thanks to Rushi & Mayuri Panchal gave their services & made this event memorable & enjoyable. Thanks to Dr. Ashish Bhojak & Dr. Deval to co-ordinated well.

On 5th May, programme on Bollywood songs, an audiovisual presentation कल और आज सदा महार गीतो with association of cultural forum & senior citizen club was a grand success with delicious dinner. Thanks to Dr. G.G. Oza Sir, Dr. Gurudutt Thakkar, Dr. Urman Dhruv.

On 12th May, there was geriatric update under the banner of Senior Citizen Club was well attended. Thanks to all eminent speakers Dr. Jyotindra Pandit, Dr. Sudhirbhai Shah, Dr. Dilipbhai Gadhavi, Dr. Mahadevbhai Desai, Dr. Mrugeshbhai Vaishnav for sharing views & imparting knowledge on geriatric medical conditions.

On the world hypertension day & the world no tobacco days were on agenda this month to recreate the awareness of both diseases. For hypertension on 17th May Facebook live programme was broadcasted with subject by intensivist & Cardiac physician Dr. Bhavesh Patel and Dr. Shwetang Jani. Thanks to Dr. Bhaveshbhai and Dr. Shwetang Jani.

For cancer awareness we arrange cancer awareness programme on 26th May, 2019. It is indeed require to recreate the awareness of the dangers of this poison tobacco and help people in coming out of its addiction. So friends, start this activity to stop using tobacco & de-addiction and coming out of influence of tobacco containing item and accepting healthy option for happiness in life. Next programme in June will be for general practitioners under auspicious of college of G.P. IMA GSB.

On 9th, there will be CME with Govt. of Gujarat, Facebook live on Blood Donation on 14th.

We are also to organise "KDAMACON"-2019. Main feature of conference will spiritual talk, literature talk, education talk, & special session for ladies & kids. On behalf of organising committee, we request you all to register one & all.

World Environment Day Environment & Health

- 1) Unsafe water : poor sanitation and hygiene kill an estimated 1.7 million people annually, particularly as a result of diarrhoeal disease
- 2) Malaria kills over 1.2 million people annually, Poorly designed irrigation and water systems, inadequate housing, poor waste disposal and water storage, deforestation and loss of biodiversity, all may be contributing factors to the most common vector-borne diseases including malaria, dengue and leishmaniasis.
- 3) Indoor smoke from solid fuels kills an estimated 1.6 million people annually due to respiratory diseases
- 4) Urban air pollution generated by vehicles, industries and energy production kills approximately 800 000 people annually
- 5) Road traffic injuries are responsible for 1.2 million deaths annually Degradation of the built urban and rural environment, particularly for pedestrians and cyclists, has been cited as a key risk factor
- 6) Lead exposure kills more than 230 000 people per year and causes cognitive effects in one third of all children globally; more than 97% of those affected live in the developing world
- 7) Climate change impacts including more extreme weather events, changed patterns of disease and effects on agricultural production are estimated to cause over 150 000 deaths
- 8) Unintentional poisonings annually kill 355 000 people

globally each year associated with inappropriate use of, toxic chemicals and pesticides present in occupational and/or domestic environments

World Environment Day (5th June every year)

The year 1972 the first major conference on environmental issues, convened under the auspices of the United Nations, was held from June 5-16 in Stockholm (Sweden). on 15 December 1972, the General Assembly adopted a resolution, designating June 5 as World Environment day. The first one was held in 1974 with theme of "Only One Earth"

The theme for 2018, hosted by India was, "Beat Plastic Pollution"

This theme for 2019 is, "Air Pollution" The host nation is China

Approximately 7 million people worldwide die prematurely each year from air pollution, with about 4 million of these deaths occurring in Asia Pacific.

Air Pollution facts:

- 92 percent of people worldwide do not breathe clean air
- Air pollution costs 5 trillion dollar every year to global economy in welfare costs
- Ground level ozone pollution is expected to reduce staple crop yields by 26 percent by 2030

Nobody is safe from air pollution, which comes from five main human sources.

1) Household

The main source of household air pollution is the indoor burning of fossil fuels, wood and other biomass-based fuels to cook, heat and light homes. The adoption of cleaner, more modern stoves and fuels can reduce the risks of illness and save lives.

2) Industry

In many countries, energy production is a leading source of air pollution. Coal-burning power plants are a major contributor, while diesel generators are a growing concern in off-grid areas. Industrial processes and solvent use, in the chemical and mining industries, also pollute the air.

Policies and programmes aimed at increasing energy efficiency and production from renewable sources is required.

3) Transport

The global transport sector accounts for almost one-quarter of energy-related carbon dioxide emissions and this proportion is rising. Transport emissions have been linked to nearly 400,000 premature deaths. Almost half of all deaths by air pollution from transport are caused by diesel emissions. The use of cleaner fuels and advanced vehicle emissions standards can reduce vehicle emissions by 90 percent or more.

4) Agriculture

There are two major sources of air pollution from agriculture: livestock, which produces methane and ammonia, and the burning of agricultural waste. Methane emissions contribute to ground-level ozone, which causes asthma and other respiratory illnesses. Methane is also a more potent global warming gas than carbon dioxide – its impact is 34 times greater over a 100-year period. Around 24 percent of all greenhouse gases emitted worldwide come agriculture, forestry and other land-use. We can move to a plant-based diet and/or reduce food waste, while farmers can reduce methane from livestock by optimizing feed digestibility and improving grazing and grassland management.

5) Waste

Open waste burning and organic waste in landfills release harmful dioxins, furans, methane, and black carbon into the atmosphere. Globally, an estimated 40 percent of waste is openly burned. Reduce the amount of waste that is burned and separating organic waste and turning it into compost or bioenergy improves soil fertility.

Other sources

Not all air pollution comes from human activity. Volcanic eruptions, dust storms and other natural processes also cause problems. Sand and dust storms may also carry pathogens and harmful substances, causing acute and chronic respiratory problems.
